URLAUB by ELMUR.NET introduces us three authors from diverse origin and backgrounds who reflect visually around the idea of travelling. Three perspectives, three creative looks that transform the seemingly everyday onto a peculiar and creative trip.

Kalma Vj (Spain) suggests us a short but interesting journey, her trip to the kitchen reflects on the relativity of time. By means of montage (nothing have been added to the original take) a futile moment becomes a creative and dynamic one. In its author's words: "Going to the kitchen because your friends make you a stupid comment can turn into a trip if you fragment and alter time and order. "

Márcia Beatriz Granero (Brazil) invites us to take a vacation without complexes and to look at the space around as it was a field full of possibilities. Why not see a beach where others see a concrete square? Jolene Jaque, is the main character of this holiday trip to the city center of São Paulo with umbrella, bikini and mojito included. A proposal with a psychotropical touch.

Bartosz Sikorski (Poland) shifts the center of gravity and perspective focusing on a unusual point of interest and making his traveling companion, a suitcase, the protagonist of his proposal. It arrives, it opens, it closes and it leaves again.
